

Sea Dog Inn helping military personnel with their pets

Sea Dog Inn recognizes the sacrifices made by military families when they receive deployment orders. It disrupts not only their family plans and lives, but creates a burden on what to do with pets while they are away. Often a beloved pet must be given up when no accommodation can be found to care for it. In order to ensure a pet can rejoin the family upon return to the USA, Sea Dog Inn is extending our policy of providing FREE PET CARE for military personnel while deployed.

It is enough that our military heroes set their personal goals and ambitions on hold for a period of time in order to serve our great country. They should not have to sacrifice a pet they love to do so.
